

Marianist On-Line Courses

While the heat radiating off of your computer is keeping you warm this winter, why not sign up for a Marianist Studies On-line Course—or two?

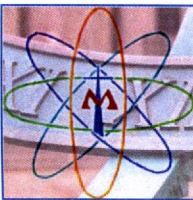

January 11-February 14

Registration: October 21-January 7

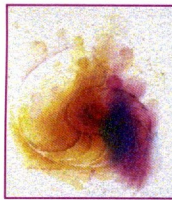

Community

Enhance your ability to form community in the Marianist spirit as you learn about the roots, expression, and unique characteristics of Marianist communities.

Education

This course was created specifically for Marianist Educators (staff, faculty, administration). Discover how to ground the characteristics of a Marianist education in the Marianist charism and more deeply align your own educational philosophy with the philosophy and pedagogy of Marianist education.

Prayer

Explore various “methods” or practices of prayer, including both individual and group prayer. Notice how the Spirit of God is always working everywhere—including in our own hearts.

March 1-April 4

Registration: January 13-February 25

Charism

Develop a deeper and broader understanding of how to live out the Marianist charism, spirituality, and mission in the wider Church and global community.

Leadership

Expand your leadership skills in connection with the Marianist tradition. Discover a style of leadership that is purposeful, developmental, adaptive, collaborative, and transformative!

To register go to vlc.udayton.edu. For more information please contact Patti Gehred, Coordinator Virtual Learning Community courses at Patti.Gehred@notes.udayton.edu or call 937.429.2521.