In order that Jesus be the center of our lives, as we await his return, we dedicate a generous part of each day to the practice of prayer. In our prayer life we give special importance to the liturgy, which is the prayer of Christ and of God's people, and personal meditation, which nourishes within us the spirit of faith.

The life and mission of our community find their source and summit in the liturgy. Made a priestly people through Baptism, we celebrate the mysteries of Christ in the course of the liturgical year. Present in word and sacrament, Christ unites us with his perfect praise of the Father through the power of the Holy Spirit, to bring the human race to holiness.

The celebration of the Eucharist, which renews our share in the paschal mystery, is central in our daily life. Each time we take part in the Eucharist, we give thanks to the Father in union with Christ. Sharing together the bread of life and the cup of salvation, we form a single body. Thus our work and rest, our trials and joys—everything in our lives—become a spiritual sacrifice, pleasing to God.

Knowing that we are sinners and wishing to attain greater purity of heart, we frequently approach the sacrament of Reconciliation. In this sacrament we receive God's pardon, and we find at the same time reconciliation with the community and with the entire Church, injured by our sins.

We are convinced that the essential is the interior. In order to be faithful to our calling as Marianists, and to grow in the life of faith, we devote an hour of each day to personal meditation. In this form of prayer we allow the Spirit of Christ to take possession of our lives, filling us with faith, hope, and charity.

Contemplation of the Lord and his loving plan for the world moves us to share in his saving mission. Meditation helps us become aware of God's presence in our activities, in the events of each day, and especially in our neighbor. Our apostolic work, in turn, is an occasion of growth in virtue, a means of purification, and a stimulus to prayer.

Mary was continually attentive to the Lord, contemplating his words and actions in her heart. In union with her we meditate on the mysteries of Christ, who was born and lived, died and rose for the salvation of the world and the glory of His Father. Each day we renew our consecration to her; we honor her with acts of filial piety and with joy we celebrate her feasts.

As our life becomes centered in God, we are rooted in the paschal mystery. In the gospel Jesus tells us: "If anyone would be my disciple, let him deny self, take up his cross, and follow me." Our love for Christ leads us gradually to overcome obstacles in our way to him and to give ourselves with inner peace to penance and personal discipline. Thus we share in the mysteries of his suffering and glorification.
