

Summer School Director

Chaminade College Preparatory, in San Fernando Valley (suburb of Los Angeles, Calif.) is looking for a Summer School Director who is capable of taking the school's program to the next level. This individual will work with school administrators on both the middle school and high school campuses to create curriculum for the summer school sessions as well as manage the summer programs (supervise the staff and oversee student enrollment). In addition, the director will be responsible for marketing the summer school programs. The position will also work on expanding the summer sessions to include recreational and sports camps to meet the needs of those students seeking an enrichment rather than academic summer experience. The position will network with the community at large (including feeder schools in the area) to create a better awareness of Chaminade's summer school offerings as well as its year-long academic programs.

Qualified candidates must have a minimum of an undergraduate degree and 5+ years experience working in a school environment. Must be able to manage staff and an operational budget.

Interested candidates please e-mail your resume to: akulinski@chaminade.org

We are a Catholic school in the Marianist tradition.