for CHANGEMAKERS
in Philadelphia, PA

Are you someone who wants to make a difference?

Are you someone committed to action
and creating social change?

Then join us for Changemakers at Chestnut Hill College!

"Changemakers: Creating New Responses for New Times" is a day-long experience developed for members of the Marianist family and interfaith colleagues, friends and other seekers of justice where we'll explore how we can address the challenges and possibilities for greater economic, environmental and social justice. Join a critical mass of faith-filled people to:

- make the needs of our local and global communities more visible
- reflect on our responses to those needs
- reimagine how we might take action to make a bigger difference during the next decade and beyond.

Changemakers will offer: opportunities to engage with local changemakers, the chance to listen to a keynote speaker to inspire and challenge us into new ways of changemaking, and time for discussion, prayer and action. Anyone 18 years of age and older from the tri-state area and beyond is welcome to attend. More information to follow via social media and www.msjc.net, but feel free to contact Jim Vogt, Director of MSJC, at any time: jimvogt2@yahoo.com.

Co-sponsored by the Marianist Social Justice Collaborative & the Office for Justice, Peace & Integrity of Creation, in collaboration with the Marianist Center in Philadelphia
