

PRE-NOVICE ROSE RUCOBA

Rose Rucoba is from Wheaton, IL, a small suburb outside of Chicago. She went to college at the University of Dayton, where she earned a B.A. in English with a minor in Spanish. After discerning religious life for two years at UD, she decided to discern further while completing a year of volunteering. From July 2019 to June of 2020, Rose served as a fellow of Amate House, a young adult year-of-service program in Chicago. While there, Rose worked as a retreat facilitator at the Br. David Darst Center, a retreat center that offers urban immersion retreats for high school and college students. Now, with another year of discernment, ministry work, and experience living in intentional community behind her, Rose is excited and filled with joy to be returning to Dayton as a pre-novice of the Marianist Sisters!
