

BROTHER JAMES MAUS

Celebrating 60 years of profession

Sixty years as a Marianist! The time has gone so quickly!

When I began this journey, little did I realize the places it would take me, the blessings and joys, as well as the challenges and opportunities for my spiritual and emotional growth.

One of the great blessings of my life as a brother, in my roles as both counselor and teacher, has been to guide young people in their own journeys towards maturity.

I owe so much to so many. Thanks to the members of my own family, who always have been encouraging and supportive, and especially, to my mother, still vital and full of life at the age of 95.

Thanks to the brothers with whom I have lived and worked. Their examples and kind words have guided me and supported me for as long as I can remember.

Thanks to all of the thousands of students and hundreds of faculty members with whom I have had the privilege to work and from whom I have learned.

Thanks, above all, to Jesus and His Blessed Mother for the grace to pursue a way of life that strives to make God's Way a reality in our world.
